

Street Markers Go up Next Week

Future Farmers Get Contract for Erection Of Street Name Signs; Mail Equipment Here

Contract for erection of street markers in Hamlin has been let to the Hamlin chapter of Future Farmers of America, A. G. Irwin, president of the Lions Club, said Wednesday.

T. C. Blankenship, FAA instructor, said the work will get underway next week, and he believes it will be completed within a few days after its start.

The markers have been in Hamlin for more than five weeks, awaiting erection. The joint Lions-Rotary committee in charge of the sale of house numbers, procured the markers and angle iron on which to place them. Irwin and Pat Marlow, president of the Rotary Club, took over the program from the point.

Cost of putting up the markers is expected to be in the neighborhood of $200, Irwin said. The committee has less than half of that amount on hand, but expects to make a concerted drive for sufficient funds to pay for the work.

A gift of $100 has been pledged by the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce, and several individuals have indicated they will pay as much as $25 to the fund.

Some of the equipment for inauguration of city mail delivery has been received by Perry Sparks, postmaster, he said Wednesday. Remainder of the equipment has been ordered for several weeks and is expected to arrive at any time.

Sparks said he would not hazard a guess as to the date mail delivery will be started, but that the city's proposed route will have to be given a final approval by post office officials.

Irwin said Wednesday he still has on hand more than 100 house numbers and is anxious to get them into the hands of householders. He urged those who do not yet have their numbers to get in touch with him at once.

TRASH GETS FIRE

Hamlin's Fire Department made a run to the alley back of the Carly Minor home Tuesday afternoon, when a trash fire threatened to spread. No damage was reported.

CARNIVAL CROWD SCATTERS

Gertie, the 300-Pound Chimpanzee, Unlocks Chain, Causes Excitement

Gertie, the 8-year-old chimpanzee with the T. J. Tidwell carnival, caused excitement for several minutes Tuesday afternoon, when she got hold of the keys to the padlock on her chain and unlocked herself to escape into the midway.

A small crowd of people, including only a few Hamlin residents, were on hand when the 300-pound simian emerged from her living quarters and started loping about unrestricted. People fled in all directions except toward the chimpanzee.

Gertie, whose age is equivalent to that of a human being, has been with the carnival for several years. She has been under the care of John Herman Alexander, Negro, who is able to keep the beast subdued.

Mattie Alexander, wife of John Herman, who has been taking care of the chimpanzee during her husband's absence is not able to do much with Gertie.

"John Herman whips her when she is naughty," Mrs. Alexander said. "When he slaps her, Gertie puts her head in her hands and cries like a baby. Usually he has only to speak to her to make her obey."

Gertie spent only a few moments on the ground Tuesday, her trainer said, and then she climbed to the top of her motorized van, and from there went on top of the tent that houses the monkey show.

After pleading, begging and threatening failed to induce Gertie to return to her chains, Queenie, the carnival's elephant was brought up. Gertie is afraid of Queenie and as soon as she saw the pachyderm,

New Ellenburger Well Tests 768 Barrels of Oil

A drillstem test produced oil at the rate of 768 barrels in 24 hours when the Atlantic Refining Company completed a new Ellenburger producer in the Pardue-Toler field northwest of Hamlin.

The well was drilled to a total depth of 5,980 feet. Operators moved the rig to an offset location for another Ellenburger try.

Patton Refining Company, started drilling this week in the Catholic Foundation tract, near the cemetery, west of Hamlin. The well is slated for 5,000 feet. It is in the Round Top field.

Oil Well Drilling Company was at 4,700 feet in a test on the R. C. Brown tract, a south extension to the Round Top late Wednesday. No showing has been reported, and the crew was drilling ahead.

E. A. Hall moved in equipment this week for the Wilson No. 3, a north offset to Round Top production. The well will go to 5,000 feet.

Operators lost circulation in a test on the Green Estate in the Boyd Chapel area late Wednesday with the bit at 3,107 feet. The crew was preparing to cement through the cavity and resume drilling Thursday. This well is the second test for this tract, the first was abandoned as a dry hole.

A new pay horizon has been reported in the Round Top area on the No. 7-H E. A. Hall fee. The well was drilled by Round Top Oil Company.

The test was completed in a Canyon sand encountered above the Palo Pinto reef. It has a potential of 226.18 barrels of oil a day.

Discovery of the pay sand makes the third zone of production in the Round Top area. Other production is from the reef and the Swastika.

Production in the well was from open hole at 4,589-4,630 feet, and flow was through quarter-inch choke.

Hamlin's amazing Pied Piper football team lost its chance at conference honors last Friday, when it suffered its second defeat of the season. The Pipers lost to Rotan Yellowhammers by a score of 7 to 0.

The game, played in Rotan's stadium, before a record crowd, saw the out-weighted Pipers hold their heavier foe to a scoreless tie in the first half. It was during the first two periods that the Pipers managed to keep the ball in Rotan territory for most of the plays.

The Yellowhammers, by winning last Friday's game, were declared champions of the west half of district 6-A, and will meet Haskell, winner of the east half, in an all-district game at Stamford Friday night. The game will determine winner of district honors.

In the third quarter, Rotan players opened up with a powerful ground attack that managed to penetrate Hamlin's line. In the opening minutes of the period the Yellowhammers plunged the ball across for the lone score of the game.

Kenneth Clark, Rotan fullback, grabbed Hamlin's kickoff and managed to gain 15 yards for the Yellowhammers to set up the stage for a touchdown.

Winston Smith, Rotan quarterback, tossed the ball from the Rotan 35 yard line to Cecil Weems, who carried it to the Pipers' 35. Clark

Anson Man, Burned in Home Fire, Dies In Hamlin Hospital Monday Afternoon

R. C. Scott, 72-year-old farmer of near Anson, died in Hamlin Memorial Hospital Monday afternoon from burns received early Monday morning when flames destroyed his farm home.

Scott, who had been living alone on his farm eight miles northeast of Anson, had recently employed Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Holt and their family to help with the farm duties.

The fire, which took place about 5 a. m. Monday, is believed to have been caused by explosion of an oil stove.

The Holts, and their children managed to escape from the house before flames had enveloped it. The children saved only their night clothing.

They said Scott emerged from the house, and then turned and went moved the ball forward five yards in the next play and then Smith shoved it forward to the Hamlin 25.

Clark took the ball on the next play and headed into the line. He reversed himself and raced around right end 25-yards for the touchdown. For the extra point he again ran around the right end to set the score 7 to 0.

The Yellowhammers held their lighter rivals at a virtual standstill throughout most of the fourth period, and come near another score when they took the ball from Hamlin. Hamlin threatened the Yellowhammers several times only to have the heavier team throw back their scoring attempts when a tally seemed certain.

The Pipers' most serious scoring threat came during the first quarter when they lost the ball on Rotan's four-yard line by a fumble.

Hamlin had started its drive deep into Rotan territory when Ronald Armstrong, tackle, fell on a Yellowhammer fumble on Rotan's 35 yard stripe. Donald Green then managed to drive through the Rotan line to the 4-yard marker where a fumble was recovered by Rotan.

A high wind throughout the game interfered with the Piper passing schedule and held the Hamlin players to a ground game against their heavier competitors.

In figures Rotan made 12 first downs to five for Hamlin; Rotan gained 219 yards rushing, to 106 for the Pipers; and Rotan drew seven penalties for 40 yards while the Pipers were assessed two penalties for 15 yards.

By losing the game, the Pipers were pushed into third place in the west half, while Colorado City, victors over the Merkel Badgers 38 to 6, won second in the western division.

The Colorado City Wolves were slated to play Albany, runner-up in the east half for second place honors in the district, Thursday night.

back inside. When he came out a moment later, they related, his clothing was in flames.

The oldest Holt boy threw a quilt around Scott and smothered the flames. At his request he was brought to the Hamlin hospital where doctors said at least two thirds of his body was burned.

The Holts lost all of their household goods in the blaze except a few articles of clothing.

Scott was born March 4, 1877 in Marion County, Ala. He was brought to Texas by his parents in 1878 and settled southeast of Anson. The Scotts were among the first families to arrive in Jones County.

In 1895 Mr. Scott was married to Belle Nichols, and five children were born to them. Mrs. Scott died in 1907, and Scott was married to Lettie C. Gilreath of Winters in 1909. They had nine children.

Among the survivors of Scott are Mrs. J. D. Dutton Jr., of Hamlin. Funeral services were conducted?

Funeral rites for Scott were conducted in the Anson Church of Christ at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Ernest McCoy officiated at the service. Burial was in the Mount Hope cemetery, directed by Lawrence Funeral Home.

The Artistry of God

Unrolling in panoramic loveliness before the eyes of those who pass by, a view of unsurpassed beauty presents itself to lovers of nature in the oak thickets that dot the plains and clothe the hills of West Texas in fall time.

No human hand, however talented it might be, can capture and put on canvas a reproduction of the gorgeous display of riotous beauty that nature distributes with such lavish hand throughout this area during early autumn.

With the passing of summer the magic alchemy of autumn begins to produce its marvelous transformation, and wooded plain, rocky slope and tree-covered meadow alike, drop their prosaic green tints and burst forth in the multi-colored radiance of the rainbow.

Art, as God produces it, cannot be imitated by mankind. And while there is much that appeals to the esthetic nature in paintings by talented artists, yet when one gazes in silent awe at the great handiwork of the Master Painter, he finds something that satiates the inner cravings of his soul.

On the road from Hamlin to Abilene at this season there is a display of such loveliness that it gives an almost unconscious feeling of being in the very presence of God. The soul can absorb sustenance from that pattern of beauty laid out by the Creator. In such a setting how can anyone walk about with bowed head and unseeing eye?

If, as he poet has well said, there are "sermons in stones and good in everything," then the colorful leaves of autumn are shouting profound messages to the hearts of those who are privileged to view them. In such surroundings how can any soul give way to sadness, when all that it needs to be filled with rejoicing is to lift up its eyes and behold the sublime panorama that God has spread out with such bountiful hand.

Quiet moments spent in the contemplation of such grandeur are moments of soul growth, and after such an experience it is not hard to now what the psalmist meant when he gave utterance to that comforting thought, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my strength."

Yes, there is a strength and a courage that flows from the study of such beauty, direct into the hearts of those who will receive it. There is a message of faith and hope and of eternal comfort in every hill and every tree and even in the smallest of flowers. Hearts that are filled with selfishness cannot receive it, because they have no room for the bigness and freshness that come with contact with nature. They are like those who "having eyes, see not."

When we are depressed by the cares and worries of business or by the troublesome trends of world events, a few moments spent in solitude among nature's gorgeous art gallery would open our ears anew to the sweet voice of nature. It would help us to discern again in the quiet rustle of the woodlands a still, small voice that would speak to our souls and benediction to our hearts. Such an experience would help us to awaken once more to the comfort that comes when we hear within our very souls the quiet command, "be still and know that I am God"

Improvements in Equipment Works to Benefit of Laborers and Adds to Pay

By GEORGE PECK

Justification for the existence of industry lies in the fact that it makes capital and management available to workers, thereby enabling workers to enlarge their contribution to our national income and their own earnings as well.

Let's use a very simple example by way of illustration. A man without any tools is given an excavation job. He is pretty helpless and his accomplishment is small over the course of the day, the week, or the year. His performance would be greatly enlarged if a hand shovel were made available to him. If, also, he were able to equip himself with a wheelbarrow to carry dirt from one point to another, his achievements would be further increased. If someone were to lend him a steam shovel and teach him how to operate it, obviously his productive labor would be multiplied manifold.

Working without tools, thus man's work would have a very low market value. Equipped with a steam shovel, on the other hand, his income would be increased many times. It is true, in the latter case, that the man would have certain expenses. He would have to pay for instruction on how to run the machine and rental for the use of it. But, he would have an enormously increased gross income out of which to meet these expenses, leaving him a much larger net income.

This man would have very little expense for rental of a hand shovel, slightly increased if he rented a wheelbarrow, and largely augmented if he rented a steam shovel. Is it not reasonable that the income to the man who rented out the steam shovel to this worker should be larger than that to the man who rented him a hand shovel? Is it not true that the worker should be able to make a greater contribution to the national income if he uses a steam shovel instead of a hand shovel? Is it not also a fact that the total income for all concerned, would be greater if he uses a steam shovel? Wouldn't it naturally follow that the worker would greatly increase his own individual earnings because he would be participating in the division of a far larger income, of which his portion would be far greater than his income would have been from his efforts with fewer or no tools?

This simple illustration of the man with the shovel exemplifies what takes place in organized industry. Industrial companies make capital available in the form of plant and machinery to their workers, plus instruction on utilization of that equipment. The better the machinery an industry makes available to its employees, the greater are the gross earnings, resulting in greater facilities to insure the safety, health and comfort of the workers; greater wages for the employees and quite reasonably a larger profit per employee for the company. Both capital and labor benefit thereby.

Conversely, the poorer and less efficient the plant facilities made available to workers, the lower are the gross earnings, resulting in fewer facilities to insure the safety, health and comfort of the employees; smaller wages for the worker and a smaller profit per employee for the company. Both capital and labor lose thereby.

Therefore, it is unfortunate that certain business-haters are loud in their condemnation of certain industrial companies because of their large earnings per employee. With the Left-Wingers' customary disregard or ignorance of the truth, they do not tell the whole story—they fail to point out that companies earning high net profits per employee are paying their employees higher wages than is the case with industries that are not earning high net profits per employee—they entirely ignore the basic fact that better equipment furnished to the employee enables him to make better wages.

Effective Method of Avoiding Long Strike Found in Member's Proposal

By MAURICE R. FRANKS

The little story I am about to tell actually happened in Toledo, Ohio, not so many years ago. Toledo certainly had had its share of labor troubles. Things became so bad that many industries were forced to close their doors; many others moved out of Toledo. When the workers themselves finally woke up to what was actually happening to them, they joined in the chorus and exclaimed, "Holy Toledo!"

The situation became so acute that citizens formed many committees to take drastic action. These committees did effective work, but a one-man committee, made up of one lone workman, really "turned the trick" of cleaning up a deplorable situation. Here's how this one-man committee accomplished that difficult feat:

A special meeting was called by a very influential group of Toledo union leaders. The express purpose of this meeting was to take a strike vote involving several hundred men. The Chairman of this meeting was a great orator, a great psychologist, a great strategist. His speech before the would-be strikers went something like this:

"Now, brothers, we've got a big job to do and to do it right, we'll have to do it as one body of united men, as one group fighting a common cause to deliver us from our present slavery. If we all strike together we'll win this fight, but, brothers, we must all strike together."

"This isn't going to be an easy fight. The group we are fighting is prepared to go the limit to beat us. If we expect victory we must go beyond that limit. Our numerical strength will not be enough. We must all muster up our moral stamina and each of us must be willing to make every personal sacrifice. If we lose this fight, brothers, it will be our last."

"The bosses we are fighting are all-powerful, are backed to the limit by their board of directors and stockholders, have plenty of money. As you brothers know, our union has very little money, not even enough in the treasury to pay any of your strike benefits. So, you must all realize this is a fight calling for real sacrifice on the part of every man in this hall."

"We must win in spite of such powerful opposition. We must show the bosses and the public of this city that we are one union willing to fight to the limit for a just cause. When the vote is taken to-night I want you fellows to vote 100 per cent in favor of a strike and a fight to the finish. I'm asking every man in this hall to give a rising vote of confidence to your leaders as evidence that we are all in this fight for a just cause. I thank you."

At this point one of the brothers arose and addressed the Chair: "Mr. Chairman and brothers, I fully agree with our Chairman. I believe the only way we can gain our rights is to strike and to strike now. Further I agree that we must ALL be willing to make every personal sacrifice and fight to the last ditch. I, for one, want to go on record as being willing to participate on the basis suggested by our worthy Chairman. Mr. Chairman, I move that from the moment the strike is 'pulled' we all do exactly as you have suggested. The Mr. Chairman and worthy that we will be off the pay no strike benefits. So, to deal completely consistent ther move that the co of our officers, including our worthy Chairman, from the moment we strike until such time as successfully concluded. I That ended the str vote was taken; the to an abrupt end, with leaders of this union union at the tops of "Oh, no you don't!"

Lot of Bull (Whip)

The legislators of a western state are holding a banquet. A newly elected member, an old cowman who had been persuaded by neighbors to run for office, was ill at ease, and a little tired at the incessant chatter going on around him.

Finally a buxom woman, whose husband was a professional politician, turned to the old cowman and said: "You had better vote for my husband's new bill," she warned loudly. "After all, you now he's the party man."

"Now," said the cowman-senator, "But there's one big trouble with that whip. They're often cracked."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Callovey of Fort Worth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Simpson and family last Sunday.

Car Stolen in Snyder Is Found in Hamlin

An automobile, believed to have been stolen in Snyder, was found abandoned on Hamlin streets in the east part of town early Thursday morning, City Marshal J. H. Foster said.

The machine, a 1947 Chevrolet coupe, had been bearing a New Mexico license tag, but the plate had been ripped off, Foster said.

A Negro, who lived near where the car was abandoned, told Foster three men had come to his door after midnight Wednesday and asked to use a telephone. When told he had no telephone, he said they left.

Long Fight on Tuberculosis Bearing Results as Incidence Drops Lower

Since the beginning of this century, tuberculosis has been forced down from first to seventh place as a cause of death among Americans. During 1900, there were almost 194 deaths for every 100,000 people. In 1948, the death rate was approximately 30 per 100,000. And even today, tuberculosis kills close to 1,000 Americans a week.

Gains against the disease did not come about accidentally. They are the result of an organized, nationwide attack on tuberculosis, spearheaded, developed, and supported by the people, themselves.

The founding of the National Tuberculosis Association in 1904 marked the first organized nationwide attack on a single major disease in this country. The organizers of the group comprised a few doctors and laymen who were determined to act concertedly against a disease that was then the leading cause of death in this country.

Objectives of the founders were to study tuberculosis in all of its forms, disseminate facts about the disease to all the people, and to promote medical research on TB.

Although the campaign was first planned on a nationwide scale, it was obvious that its success called for attacking the disease on a community basis, since the various areas of the country had different problems to be solved before tuberculosis could be controlled.

Consequently, the founders of the NTA fostered the formation and development of state and local organizations to study tuberculosis problems in their areas and to work out a plan of attack to bring the disease under control in the particular areas.

Today there are 3,000 associations affiliated with the NTA which are engaged in year-round programs of tuberculosis control. These programs include case finding, health education, rehabilitation, and the support of medical research. The associations work in close cooperation with local health departments and other health agencies.

These cooperative efforts have borne fruit, but with tuberculosis taking almost 50,000 American lives each year—one every 11 minutes, with tuberculosis leading the causes of death from disease among young people between 15 and 34, there is still a great deal to be done.

Financial support to continue the battle against tuberculosis carried on by the voluntary associations comes from the annual sale of Christmas seals which will open this year on Nov. 21 and will continue until Christmas. Every American who buys and uses Christmas seals is actively engaged in the war waged against tuberculosis in his own community.

Jessie Meyers Is H-S-U Queen; Coronation Dec. 1

Jessie Meyers, 1948 champion cowgirl of the Stamford Cowboy Rodeo, will be crowned queen of the H-S-U Intercollegiate Rodeo in ceremonies which will be held at the H-S-U campus on December 1. Miss Meyers was chosen from among 13 nominees, and defeated Fay Huff of Brady in the run-off.

The H-S-U campus queen coronation may be new to Jessie but the role of rodeo queen has been a title given to the 5'11" beauty since her first start in the rodeo world.

Miss Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Meyers, formerly of Hamlin and now of Abilene, has ridden in scores of rodeos in West Texas. She has ridden at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and Southwestern Exposition, the Cowboy Reunion, the TCU rodeo, and also at Breckenridge, Snyder, Post, Archer City, Colorado City, Big Spring, Coleman, Midland, Hamilton, Baird, Kerrville and the Hardin-Simmons Intercollegiate Rodeo of which she was chosen champion cowgirl in 1947. She is a former student in Hamlin High School.

As one of the riders of the H-S-U six white horses, she has paraded at the Lions International Convention in New York and San Francisco as well as numerous other places in Texas.

Even though rodeo and ranch life are her highest with Jessie, who will celebrate her twenty-first birthday today, she rounds out her campus life by being vice-president of the Senior class, vice-president of the H-S-U Rodeo Club, a member of the Cowgirls, H-S-U cheering unit, and the Physical Education Club. She was sophomore class favorite in 1947-48.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Dr. Will C. House, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and several lay members of the church attended Abilene District conference at Abilene Monday. Those who went, in addition to the pastor, were Mrs. Jim C. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bailey, Mrs. A. A. Hackley, Mrs. Brad Rowland, and A. B. Carlton. Dr. House preached for the conference.

The Rugged Way.

"I don't wonder at some poor wives having to help themselves out of their husband's pockets," said Mrs. Jones to Mrs. Green, as the two ladies were holding a confab on the troubles of husbands. "I can't say I like them underhand ways myself," replied Mrs. Green. "I just turn my man's breeches upside down and help myself off the carpet."

Look at Your Serial Number as Means Of Figuring When NSLI Check Coming

The lower the final three digits of his serial number, the sooner a veteran will get his National Service Life Insurance special refund.

The order in which checks will be mailed, beginning in January, was announced last Friday by the Veterans Administration.

Under the procedure, veterans whose serial numbers end with 000, 001, 002, 003, 004, 005, 006, 007, 008, 009 will be in the first group mailed checks.

In the second group are veterans whose serial numbers end with 010 through 019. Next come those with serial numbers ending 020 through 029.

This procedure continues until the final group—990 through 999—is reached.

Approximately 16,000,000 veterans are entitled to repayments totaling $2,800,000,000. Checks will range from a low of 92 cents to a high of $5.23, depending upon the amount of insurance a veteran carried and the length of time he paid premiums.

So far, nearly 13,500,000 veterans have applied for refunds. Applications are coming in at the rate of about 10,000 a day. There is no deadline for filing. Approximately 10,000,000 checks are expected to go out in the first 10 weeks after payments begin.

Some applicants will miss early payments even if their serial numbers end in low figures. This is due, VA officials said, to the fact that additional information must be obtained from them. These applications will be handled separately.

In the case of a veteran who had more than one serial number while in service, the VA will go by the number which appears on his insurance.

Then there are some Navy veterans whose serial numbers are split by hyphens which cause them to end in two digits; for instance 885-35-15. In this case, the VA said, it will disregard the hyphen and go by the 515.

Miss Peggy Wainscott Is Bride of Higgins

Miss Peggy Wainscott became the bride of David Higgins when vows were read for them in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wainscott at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. John Brockman of Woodson, aunt of the bride, gave a reading, "November Couple."

Following the marriage a reception was given in the dining room of the Wainscott home. The bride's table was laid in ecru lace, centered with bronze chrysanthemums. Following a short trip the couple

What to Do When You Have a Cold Is Told by Doctor

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said there's hardly anyone who hasn't caught cold at one time or another. The common cold is common indeed! Besides making you feel miserable, colds steal your time and money. They fool you, too, because the early signs are often the same as those of more serious illnesses. And long-continued colds may pave the way for an attack of pneumonia, tuberculosis, or a chronic infection of the nose, throat, ears or sinuses. So, do the best you can to keep from catching cold. And if you do catch one, take proper care of yourself so you can get rid of it.

- When you have a cold:
1. Get as much rest as possible. Stay in bed or indoors for the first day or so if you can.
 2. Keep comfortable warm and dry. If you must go to work, wear clothes that will protect you adequately when out of doors, and avoid drafts and sudden chilling when overheated.
 3. Drink plenty of citrus fruit juice, water, and other liquids. Eat simple foods that agree with you.
 4. Protect other people as much as possible. Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze. Use paper handkerchiefs or paper napkins that can be burned. And wash your hands frequently with soap and water.
 5. Blow your nose gently. If you don't, you may force infected material from your nose into your sinuses or middle ear and develop sinus trouble or serious ear infection.
 6. If a cold starts with chills, fever or aching, or seems more severe, or lasts longer than usual, consult a doctor without delay.

Hamlinites Injured In Abilene Mishap

Two Hamlin men suffered minor injuries late last Thursday afternoon, then they were thrown from a pickup truck on North Grape Street in Abilene.

Ches Acklin, Hamlin farmer, was driving the pickup, and told police he swerved the vehicle to avoid hitting a dog. L. B. Maberry, also of Hamlin, who was riding with him, and Acklin both were thrown from the machine.

The pickup left the street, swerved into a driveway and crashed into a parked milk truck behind a grocery store. Driver of the milk truck, who was unloading milk, jumped to one side before the crash.

Acklin and Maberry were taken to Hendrick Memorial Hospital for treatment and released.

Unsettled Condition Reflected in Rise and Fall of Prices in Market

Lower prices for some products partly offset price advances on others at southwest farm markets, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reported.

Hogs lost mostly 75 cents to $1 in Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado, although stocker and feeder pigs held steady at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. Good and choice medium weight butchers sold mainly at $15.75 at San Antonio Monday, $16.25 at Fort Worth, $15.75 to $16 at Oklahoma City, and $16 to $16.50 at Denver.

Cattle and calves sold mostly unchanged to as much as $1 higher than a week earlier in Texas and Oklahoma Monday, but some classes declined at Denver. Cows and calves found the best outlets. Canner and cutter cows ranged from $10 to $13.50.

Sheep and lambs advanced 25 to 50 cents for the week at San Antonio and Denver, but closed unchanged at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. Good and choice lambs sold from $23 to $23.50 at Fort Worth and Denver Monday. Oats were steady to higher.

Less cattle, calves and sheep but more hogs arrived at southwest and midwest markets last week than the week before or a year earlier.

Eggs and poultry showed little change from a week ago. Light hens declined a cent or two to bring 15 cents at Dallas, 19 to 22 at Fort Worth, 12 to 18 at Denver, and 24 to 25 at New Orleans. Turkeys held fairly firm, with only a cent decline here and there. North Texas markets took hens at 34 to 36 and toms at 25 to 26.

Grain markets held to narrow changes of around a cent or less for the week. Oats, white corn and wheat advanced slightly. Through Channels, Please

A London newspaper says that a recently discharged soldier, who had unpleasant memories of his military experience after resuming his civilian clothes to write his former colonel:

"Sir: After what I have suffered for the last two years, it gives me much pleasure to tell you and the army to go to— a place where only the wicked are consigned.

In due course he got his reply: "Sir: Any suggestion on inquiries concerning the movement of troops must be entered on army form 2132, a copy of which I enclose."

"But are you certain that Miss Gotrocks is not at home?" insisted the caller. The maid gave him an injured look. "Do you doubt her word, sir?" she replied icily.

Good Reason

When Freddy came home from school he was crying.

"Teacher whipped me because I was the only one who could answer the question she asked the class."

Freddy's mother was both astounded and angry. "I'll see the teacher about this! What was the question she asked you?"

"She wanted to know who put the glue in her ink bottle."

Book by Former Hamlin Woman Called 'Miracle Work,' and New 'Revelation'

Hailed by some theologians as "a new revelation," and a "miracle book," a new volume, written by Zeda McGee former, Hamlin woman, was released by its publishers this week.

The work appears under the name of "Zeda Christian," which is a pen name selected by the author. She said she chose that name because she "did not want to glorify the writer."

The book is titled "The Word, Transpiring, Transforming, Transmuting," and is of a religious nature.

Miss McGee has made her home in Dallas since 1925, when she moved there from Hamlin with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McGee.

She was born on a farm south of Hamlin in 1905 and attended school in Hamlin. For several years she was employed in a bank here.

While living in Hamlin she was a member of the First Baptist Church, and was of a deeply religious nature.

Sister, Mrs. J. B. Eakin, still lives here. She has a copy of the new book, which was sent to her by the author.

An introduction to the book are these words: "The author is the unseen hand, that has risen to be all things in man, and with man, as all the voice of God, and the words recorded, are those that come in a nightly vision to be heard, seen, and felt, and are spoken of the Prince of man, the Lord Jesus Christ."

Bright Boy

The children had all been photographed and the teacher was trying to persuade them each to buy a copy of the group picture.

"Just think how nice it will be to look at it when you are all grown up and say, 'There's Rose; she's married,' or 'That's Billy; he's a sailor.'"

A small voice at the back of the room piped up. "And there's teacher, she's dead."

65 Seconds Taken in Fire Drill in School

Students in Hamlin High School required 65 seconds to file out of the building Tuesday afternoon when a fire drill was conducted, B. V. Newberry, principal, said.

The time was several seconds slower than was required several weeks ago in a drill, but was considered sufficient for safety.

Dorcas Class Met in Home of Mrs. Magee

Members of the Dorcas Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. L. S. Magee last Thursday for a covered dish luncheon and Thanksgiving program.

Crysanthemums were used to decorate the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. Etta Sterhenson gave a devotional and Mrs. Minnie Cooper gave the invocation.

During the program each member told what she was most thankful for during the past year. Plans were discussed for a Christmas program.

Those present were Mrs. Nellie Money, Mrs. Mattie Brewer, Mrs. W. B. Boyd, Mrs. Stella Beavers, Mrs. Minnie Cooper, Mrs. W. H. Davis, Mrs. Dave Harris, Mrs. Etta Stephenson, Mrs. Music, Mrs. Gable Mrs. Joe Miller, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. J. M. McGough and Mrs. Magee.

"I did have, but the evening I went to propose to her, before I got a chance she told me she loved Browning and Kipling and Shelly. Now what chance did I have with three other men?"

Student Council To Be Organized Here Next Week

Final organization of a student council in Hamlin High School will be effected Monday, when all officers for the council will be named, B. V. Newberry, principal, said.

John Holland was elected president of the council in voting several weeks ago, and other officers to be named will be a vice president, secretary and reporter. The officers will constitute the executive committee, Newberry said.

In addition to the executive committee, the council will be made up of a representative body, to be formed by the president and secretary of each of the classes.

In order to be eligible for office in the council a student must have not less than a "B" average and must have had no failing grades for the past year.

All executive officers will be chosen from membership of the junior and senior classes, Newberry said.

Waggoner Is Speaker At Rotary Club Meet

Frank Waggoner, Hamlin druggist, gave the address at the Wednesday noon Rotary Club luncheon, in which he discussed the drug business.

Waggoner contrasted modern drug selling with the business in by-gone years. "Everything had to be done by prescription then," he said, "while today many popular prescriptions are compounded in the factory and come ready bottled and labeled."

"See, here," the agent at an Indian reservation said to one of the chieftains, "It's a violation of the law to have more than one wife and you have four. When you go back home you tell all of your wives except one that they can no longer regard you as their husband."

The chief pondered a moment and then replied, "Ugh, you tell em."
